

Safety Training

Spring 2020

We're here with fresh resources to keep Safety at Work top of mind for you and your employees. Whether your company is moving its workforce to remote operations or increasing warehouse inventory and personnel, we encourage you to take advantage of this time to ramp up your safety efforts with our online resources.

Forklift Training and Train-the-Trainer For employers who have increased warehouse operations and forklift operators, we're offering online training for groups and on-demand Train-the-Trainer with certification. For more information, email karen.johnson@ffvamutual.com

Online Short Talks

Chemical Labeling [14 minutes] One of the required elements of a HazCom program is establishing a process for proper container labeling. This short talk reviews labeling requirements and what has changed over the last few years.

Employee Involved Safety [9 minutes] During this short talk, we discuss the advantages of involved employees, why employees disengage, and how to get your employees engaged and excited about safety.

Eye Wash Stations [7 minutes] The first 10 to 15 seconds are critical after employees' eyes are exposed to hazardous and corrosive substances. Join this short talk to learn about eye wash station requirements, inspection and proper use.

Preventing Heat-Related Illnesses [11 minutes] Working in hot weather can be dangerous, but luckily heat-related illnesses and deaths are completely preventable. During this short talk, we will review the different types of heat-related illnesses and how employees can help prevent them when working in hot outdoor conditions.

Safety Data Sheets [9 minutes] Federal regulations require Safety Data Sheets (SDS) in the workplace when hazardous chemicals are used. This short talk covers employee training and the most important SDS sections.

Working around Powered Industrial Trucks [7 minutes] This short talk reviews pedestrian safety at work for employees who work around powered industrial trucks.

Workplace Housekeeping [9 minutes] Housekeeping prevents injuries, improves productivity and morale, and makes a positive first impression. Join this short talk for tips to help improve housekeeping efforts in your workplace.

Live Webcast [May]

How to Create an Effective OSHA-Approved Safety Incentive Program Wednesday, May 13 @ 10:30 am ET

Join this webcast for ways to develop an effective program that resonates with your employees, creates a strong safety culture, and encourages behaviors that reduce workplace injuries.

Quick Links to more FFVA Mutual Short Talks and Webcasts:

www.ffvamutual.com/safety/short-talks

www.ffvamutual.com/safety/safety-webcasts

Did you Know? We offer online training on a variety of training courses. To learn more and request training, visit www.ffvamutual.com/safety/safety-training-request